

Culture Evening at the Aleppo Heritage Center

The Aleppo Heritage Center organized a special culture evening on 28/12/2000 including an art exhibition in the spirit of the Aleppo Jewish Heritage.

The function was held at the Renaissance Hotel in Tel Aviv, and was attended by writers and academic personalities - among them author Eli Amir and Professor Nehemia Lev-Zion. Among others, the guests focused on Amnon Shamosh's literary work.

The evening included lighting of Hanukka candles, and songs by cantors Shaul Shemi and Shmuel Levi. An exhibition of paintings and artworks was on display in the hall, showing the works of Abraham Shemi-Shaham, Dalia Assoulin and Ezra Kazin. Japanese scholar Komiko Yayama - whom the Center is assisting in researching the musicology of Aleppo Jewry - accompanied the evening by songs and melodies from Halab.
